

Marco Reyes Game Packet

| READ BEFORE THE PARTY

1. Your Costume

Male | Early 20s Hotel uniform: black or white button-down, sleeves rolled. Dark slacks, polished shoes. Valet name tag. Car keys on lanyard clipped to belt. Vibe: Too pretty to be “just the help.”

2. Your Props

Valet name tag (“MARCO — Heathens Hollow”), car keys on lanyard, valet log sheet (print)

3. Your Character

Who You Are: Male | Early 20s | SUSPECT

You’re the hotel’s head valet. Young, handsome, charming with every guest. You remember drink orders and dog names. You work hard and keep your head down — or that’s the version everyone sees. In reality, you’ve been running small-time drug deals through the valet stand and skimming cash for years, building toward the day you disappear.

YOUR 3 SECRETS

1. Gloria Reyes is your mother. Nobody at this party knows that. You and Gloria have been careful to keep distance in public. She placed you at this hotel to keep an eye on things — but you have your own plans.
2. You have a go-bag hidden in your room — cash, a fake passport, a burner phone. You’re planning to disappear. You’ve been saving for years and you’re almost ready to leave this life behind.
3. Paloma’s bad intelligence got your brother Diego killed two years ago. A cartel ambush. Diego was 22. Paloma called it “cost of doing business.” You’ve been carrying that rage every day since.

YOUR ALIBI

You were at the valet stand all night. Multiple guests saw you. You have log sheets showing cars parked. But you took a 15-minute break around 10 PM that you can't fully explain, and your master key was used to access the service area at 10:07 PM. You say you were moving a car into the service garage. That's technically true. But you saw something in the service corridor you haven't told anyone about.

YOUR CONNECTIONS

- Gloria — Your mother. You love her but you're planning to leave without telling her.
- Paloma — She got your brother killed. You hate her.
- Irina — You two have a thing. She's the only person who knows the real you.
- Dex — He recruited you into this life when you were 19. He carries guilt about it.
- Val — Your boss. You have a small crush.
