

Round 2 — “Everyone’s a Suspect”

10:00 PM – 11:00 PM

Scene: Everyone’s inside. The party is over. The host opens, then turns the players loose to talk to each other. Move, pair off, trade alibis and secrets in conversation. Yes-and rule: if someone asks you something not on your card, play along; make it up consistent with your character.

- Your alibi: “What Val said. Her suite. The whole time.” Match Val’s story too perfectly. Nod too eagerly.
- Share in conversation:
 - If asked what you were “working on,” exchange a look with Val. Don’t answer clearly.
 - When margaritas come up, get bitter: “Paloma spilled margaritas on me twice. Soaked my hardware wallet. I started thinking it wasn’t clumsiness.”
 - If anyone asks about the override card, look at Val nervously. Don’t speak.
- Seek out: Val (stay glued to her), Dex (you suspect he was the one spilling drinks).
- You’re rattled. Show it.

Your reaction when Sunny stands up (federal stakes — around minute 20)

When Sunny drops the corporate persona, opens his padfolio, and produces the federal badge and the printed indictment list — when he announces he’s IRS-Interpol and Paloma was his informant who was going to testify against everyone in the room on Monday:

- Your line: “Oh god.” Say it out loud. The room should hear you.
- After the line, look at Val. Don’t move from her side. Your operation is exposed too.
- When Sasha steps forward and hands Sunny the sealed envelope, watch it land. Don’t speak again this beat.
