

Round 2 — “Everyone’s a Suspect”

10:00 PM – 11:00 PM

Scene: Everyone’s inside. The party is over. The host opens, then turns the players loose to talk to each other. Move, pair off, trade alibis and secrets in conversation. Yes-and rule: if someone asks you something not on your card, play along; make it up consistent with your character.

- Your alibi: “I was... at the party. I think. I had several drinks. I’m honestly fuzzy after 9:30.” You look like you’re about to cry.
- Share in conversation:
 - You have a chemical burn on your hand. You don’t know how you got it. If someone notices: panic.
 - If the “we’re done” text or your relationship with Paloma comes up: cry. Won’t answer. It was complicated.
 - Try and fail to drink from your novelty fishbowl glass. Slop wine on yourself.
- Seek out: Gloria (cling to her), anyone who’ll listen to you cry.
- Operatic levels of mess. You are the comic relief — lean in.

Your reaction when Pepe clears you (mid-round, around minute 10)

When the energy lulls mid-round, Pepe will walk to the center of the room holding a broken spray bottle and a small fragrance bottle. He’ll announce to everyone: you broke into his supply closet around 10, knocked over the spray bottle (that’s your chemical burn), and grabbed a fragrance bottle on the way out — it’s room scent, they have forty of them.

- Look genuinely surprised. Mouth open. Eyes wide. Deliver: “I did?”
- After Pepe finishes explaining, you’re cleared. Big release. Toast the room with the fishbowl. Slop wine on yourself. Laugh through tears.
- From this point on you can be even louder. The tension is off you.
