

Round 3 — “The Investigation”

11:00 PM – Midnight

Scene: Hard evidence. Investigation by conversation. Press the alibis. Look at the body. Open bags. Two visual climaxes anchor the round (the five browns, then Val cleared / Marco’s eyewitness moment) — these are run by characters in the room, not by the host.

Your moment to drive — Diego speaks

For most of this round, keep drifting. Stay near the edges. Don’t react when Marco looks guilty, when Val looks guilty, when Irina breaks. Wait.

Your cue: When Zoya names Marco as Gloria’s son and Fiona holds up the wallet photo of you — step forward. Walk to the center of the room. Don’t rush.

Deliver the line, slow and even:

“I was 22. Paloma traded my name to a rival cartel for information. I didn’t know why I died until I was already dying. My mother never recovered.”

- Look at Gloria when you finish. Hold the look.
- Don’t move from the center of the room until the round ends. Not when Pepe surfaces the work order. Not when Val is cleared. Not when Marco speaks. You stay where you are. The motive lives in the middle of the room now.
