

Round 2 — “Everyone’s a Suspect”

10:00 PM – 11:00 PM

Scene: Everyone’s inside. The party is over. The host opens, then turns the players loose to talk to each other. Move, pair off, trade alibis and secrets in conversation. Yes-and rule: if someone asks you something not on your card, play along; make it up consistent with your character.

- You don’t have an alibi to give — you’re not a suspect. But you’re the audit. The data. The receipts.
- Share in conversation (drop these one at a time, to whoever’s asking, like a procedural witness):
 - Master keys: “A master key swiped the service area at 10:07. Only four people have one — me, Irina, Marco, and maintenance. Maintenance is off-island. My audit is off by one tonight. That has never happened on my watch.”
 - Doug’s entrance: “Mr. Kaminski came through the service entrance at 9:45, not midnight. Sasha logged him in the back way. No guest uses that entrance by accident.”
 - Val’s back staircase: “Wedged open with a doorstop around 9:30 PM. Fire-code violation.”
 - Service stairwell side exit: “Wedged open since 6 PM. Same MO. Two propped doors in one night, both on routes that bypass the front desk.”
 - Marco’s incident report: Hand it over when Marco’s name comes up. “Three weeks ago — Ms. Rathbone called Mr. Reyes a ‘local punk’ over a parking scratch. He scratched through his own comments. Look at the pen pressure.”
 - Override card: “The owner’s override was swiped at 10:05 PM on Ms. Rathbone’s floor. Only one card has that clearance.”
- Hold back the maintenance work order — that’s a Round 3 reveal that clears Val.
- Seek out: Marco (the incident report), Irina (the garment bag — “Garment delivery is not a laundry function. Who authorized it?”), Doug (the back-door entry).
- All business. You don’t editorialize. You don’t lie to authority. You also don’t enjoy being lied to.
