

Round 2 — “Everyone’s a Suspect”

10:00 PM – 11:00 PM

Scene: Everyone’s inside. The party is over. The host opens, then turns the players loose to talk to each other. Move, pair off, trade alibis and secrets in conversation. Yes-and rule: if someone asks you something not on your card, play along; make it up consistent with your character.

- Your alibi: “Front desk handling conference wrap-up from 7 PM. Rosa can confirm. I was buried in paperwork.”
- Share in conversation:
 - The envelope: “Paloma gave me this two days ago. She said: ‘If anything happens to me, give this to the authorities.’ I haven’t opened it.” Hold up the sealed envelope. (Inside: a USB drive.) Show it to whoever asks.
 - Paloma was scared: “She wasn’t sleeping. Encrypted phone calls. Looking over her shoulder. She wasn’t sad — she was scared.”
 - The lobby fight with Val: “Yesterday in the lobby — Val grabbed her arm. Paloma pulled away. It looked personal. Not the beach argument — a separate one.”
 - Diego: “Paloma mentioned someone named Diego once, a few days ago. She said the name like it hurt. I didn’t ask.”
- Seek out: Sunny, Val (ask directly: “What happened in the lobby yesterday?”).
- Young, harried, in over your head. You knew Paloma better than anyone.

Your moment to drive — when Sunny stands up

Sunny will stand up mid-round, drop the corporate persona, and reveal he’s a federal agent — IRS-Interpol joint task force. Paloma was his informant. He’ll produce a badge and an indictment list. Val drops her champagne. Zane says “Oh god.” Doug says “Aw, hell.” Gloria doesn’t move.

As soon as Sunny finishes that speech, step forward with the sealed envelope. Hand it to him.

- “Then I think you should have this.”

That’s it. Hand over the envelope, step back. Stay near him for the rest of the round.
