YOUR GAME PACKET — Gloria Reyes

Dirty Laundry: Murder in the Caymans

READ BEFORE THE PARTY: Sections 1, 2, and 3. DO NOT READ AHEAD: Sections 4–7 are your round cards. Wait for the host to call each round before reading.

1. Your Costume

Female | Late 40s Crisp linen blouse or wrap top. Tailored resort pants or midi skirt. Wedge sandals or nice flats. Pearl or gold stud earrings. Designer tote. Reading glasses on a chain. Vibe: On every board and committee at the country club, simultaneously.

2. Your Props

Linen tote bag, insulin pen (label “INSULIN”), reading glasses on chain

3. Your Character

Female | Late 40s | SUSPECT (THE KILLER)

Who You Are

You look like you chair the PTA. Linen dress, perfect blowout, understated jewelry. You ask about people's families, remember their kids' names, and speak so softly people lean in to hear you. You bring deviled eggs to potlucks and serve on charity committees. Nobody suspects the soccer mom from suburban Tampa.

Your 3 Secrets

1. You run a cartel operation spanning Florida and the Caribbean. The soccer mom thing is a cover. You're a serious mid-level operator — drugs, money laundering, leverage. Several people at this party work for you whether they know it or not.
2. You ordered Irina to poison Paloma's shirt. You gave Irina a slow-acting toxin and told her to lace Paloma's dress shirt through the hotel laundry. The shirt was the plan — remote, deniable, cold. But when you saw Paloma still alive at 10:25 PM, you went yourself with the insulin pen.
3. Your son Diego was killed two years ago because of Paloma. She fed bad intelligence to a rival cartel. Diego was 22. She called it "cost of doing business." You've been planning this since the day you buried him.

Your Alibi

You were in the conference room all evening with Gerald Finch and Lorraine Chu, discussing tax strategies. They'll both confirm — they owe you favors. In reality, you stepped out for about ten minutes around 10:25 PM through the side exit. Three minutes to the service area. You found Paloma. You finished what the shirt started. You were back before anyone questioned your absence.

Your Connections

- Marco — Your son. Nobody knows. You placed him at this hotel. You'd do anything for him.
- Diego — Your firstborn. Dead. The reason you're doing this.
- Irina — Your operative. She follows your orders because you pay for her mother's medical care and her daughter's school.
- Dex — Former fixer. You have leverage over him.
- Pam — Your genuine best friend. She doesn't know about the cartel.
- Doug — He launders money for you through his porta potty business.

Your Props

Linen tote bag, insulin pen (labeled prop), reading glasses on chain

HOST NOTE: Gloria is the killer. Her round cards are written so she acts innocent through Rounds 1-3. In Round 4, if correctly accused, she delivers the confession speech from the Master Storyline.

 STOP — Wait for the host to call “ROUND 1 — 8:00 PM”

4. Round 1 — “The After-Party”

In-game time: 8:00 PM – 10:00 PM

GLORIA REYES

- Arrive in linen and blowout. Be the PTA mom. Ask about families. Remember names. Speak softly — make people lean in.
 - Be warm to everyone. Touch people on the arm. You are the least suspicious person in the room.
 - Check your watch occasionally. Don’t be obvious about it.
 - When the body is found, be composed. Put your arm around Pam. Check on Marco with a glance, not words.

 STOP — Wait for the host to call “ROUND 2 — 10:00 PM”

5. Round 2 — “Everyone’s a Suspect”

In-game time: 10:00 PM – 11:00 PM

GLORIA REYES

- Your alibi: “Conference room. Tax shelter strategies with Gerald Finch and Lorraine Chu.” Smooth, prepared. Gerald and Lorraine nod before you finish speaking.
 - Be calm. Steady hands. Steady voice. Check your watch once — catch yourself doing it.
 - When Pam gets emotional, put your arm around her. “Leave her alone. She’s grieving.”
 - When the master key swipe is announced, show no reaction. You’re the calmest person in the room. That should worry people.

STOP — Wait for the host to call “ROUND 3 — 11:00 PM”

6. Round 3 — “The Investigation”

In-game time: 11:00 PM – Midnight

GLORIA REYES

- Hold your composure as long as possible. This round is about the walls closing in.
 - When Zoya reveals you’re Marco’s mother: don’t deny it. Say nothing. Let the silence speak.
 - When Irina reveals the poisoned shirt and names you: stay calm. “Irina is confused. She’s under tremendous stress.”
 - When Gerald cracks and admits you left the conference room: your composure finally slips. Just a crack.
 - When Marco says he saw you at the stairwell: look at him. Just look at him. The round ends here. Save the confession for Round 4.

STOP — Wait for the host to call “ROUND 4 — Midnight”

7. Round 4 — “The Reveal”

In-game time: Midnight

IF GLORIA IS CORRECTLY IDENTIFIED:

GLORIA REYES — The Confession

- Don’t run. Don’t deflect. Stand up. Look at Marco.
- Deliver the confession (from memory, paraphrased, or read from a provided card):

“Yes. I killed her.

The shirt was always the plan. Remote. Clean. I gave Irina the compound. She delivered it through the laundry. Paloma would get sick slowly — by morning it would look like a medical event. That was the professional plan.

But at 10:25, I saw her through the conference room door. Stumbling. Grabbing the wall. Still alive. The shirt should have been enough.

But I couldn't sit in that room and wait.

I found her near the laundry. She recognized me. 'Gloria? What are you—'

I injected the paralytic. Ninety seconds.

The shirt was the operation. The injection was me. A mother.

My son Diego was twenty-two. Paloma gave one piece of bad information to the wrong people and called it cost of doing business. She never lost a night of sleep. I've lost every night for two years.

She was going to testify. She was going to bring down everyone in this room — including Marco, who has done nothing except be born into the wrong family.

A mother protects her children. Even the dead ones."

Looks at Marco. "I'm sorry you had to see this."
